Hi Kristy,

Chris and I discussed setting up a conference call with Garnishee to discuss the back owed garnishment payments. Does Chris want to participate in that call? If not, I will work directly with the employer.

Also, Chris was going to confirm there were not conflicts with him and the Garnishee.

Thank you,

Good morning Chris,

I wanted to follow up with you on our call last week. Do you have any updated information as to your involvement with Garnishee? I would like to set up a conference call to resolve the garnishment payments.

Thank you,

Hi Chris,

It was a pleasure speaking with you this morning. This email is to follow up on our conversation and to memorialize the plan going forward. Based on our conversation, it is my understanding that you represent Mr. Lattin and agreed to assist Mr. Lattin with payments under the garnishment. As discussed, the Garnishee is responsible for withholding benefits from Mr. Lattin and providing payments to the Clerk of District Court under the Final Order in Garnishment (attached). Before we discuss this issue with Garnishee, you agreed to conduct a conflict check to make sure that you do not, or have not in the past, represented Garnishee in this matter. Once I hear back from you, I will set up a conference call with Garnishee for us to discuss the past owed garnishment payments and current garnishment payments. I attached the Answer of Garnishee for your review/records.

Thank you,
